World Association for Vedic Studies (WAVES), Inc.
&
Hindu University of America, Orlando, Florida

The Seventh International Conference

“WAVES 2008”

The theme of the conference is

“Vedic Heritage for Global Welfare of the Next Generation”

June 14 – 16, 2008
Orlando, Florida, USA

About the Conference

World Association for Vedic Studies, known by its acronym ‘WAVES,’ is a multidisciplinary academic society with members from different religions, often of different scholarly views, and varied interests. It welcomes persons engaged/interested in studying in any field of Vedic/Indian studies. The word ‘Vedic’ is used in a wide sense to include not only Vedas, but all different areas as well as past, present, and future of traditions and people based on Vedas.

The Conference aims at bringing together persons having an academic interest in diverse areas of Indian studies. These will include scholars, academics, authors, writers, journalists, media-persons, artists, etc., and of course the common man interested in past, present, and future of Indian/Vedic Studies.

The six previous conferences focused on the following themes: “Int’l Conference on Revisiting Indus - Saraswati Civilization & Ancient India”, Atlanta (GA), October 4-6, 1996, “International Conference on New Perspectives on Vedic & Ancient Indian Civilization”, Los Angeles (CA), August 7-9, 1998, “International Conference on Contemporary Views on Indian Civilization”, Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, (NJ), July 28-30, 2000, “India’s Contributions and Influences in the World”, University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth (MA) July 12-14, 2002. “India’s Intellectual Traditions in Contemporary Global Context”, July 9–11, 2004, University of Maryland, Washington, DC area. “Vedic Ideas for Global Harmony and Peace in the Modern Context”, July 8-10, 2006, University of Houston, Houston, Texas.

Previous conferences have attracted participants from many countries around the world, including Australia, Austria, Bali (Indonesia), Belgium, Canada, Caribbean, China, Germany, India, Japan, Mexico, Nepal, Netherlands, UK, and USA.

CALL FOR PAPERS AND PARTICIPATION

WAVES-2008 conference is tentatively scheduled to be a three-day event. The conference events will consist of a total of sixteen invited lectures and approximately 150 paper presentation sessions/poster presentations on this year's theme.
